

Agreement between CD Syndications, Inc. and Broadcaster

1. For the right to broadcast, the station agrees to air each radio program (supplied on compact disc or other medium) without alteration, cutting or editing, except for alternate program cues as specifically allowed by CD Syndications. Broadcaster may insert local station breaks and announcements at times specified on the cue sheet of each program.
2. Broadcaster is allowed one release of each program within twelve months of the series initiation date (October 1, 2007). A release is defined as an unlimited number of plays within one week of the first play. The broadcaster may air the programs in series order at anytime within the twelve month release window.
3. In accepting the programs, the broadcaster has the right of use on the station's broadcasting facilities or network.
4. Broadcaster agrees that this is a subscription to the right of broadcast. It is not the purchase of the programs. The programs' contents remain the property of CD Syndications.
5. The broadcaster agrees that the compact discs or tapes upon which these programs are delivered remain the property of CD Syndications. Following the twelve month broadcast period, all compact discs or tapes are to be returned to CD Syndications. They will be recycled. The following year's programs will not be made available to the broadcaster until the previous year's programs have been returned to CD Syndications.
6. Material furnished is for broadcast only and may be used for no other purpose. Broadcaster agrees not to dub or permit to be dubbed the contents of any program for use directly or indirectly in making records or in any other device for the home, or for any other purpose whatsoever.

Our station agrees to the terms of the CD Syndications Broadcast Agreement and will abide by this agreement in broadcasting Indianapolis On-The-Air (and Center Stage if specified).
